Global Impact Report
Patient and Family Advisory Councils

HIGHLIGHTS

Vanderbilt University Medical Center was all set to host the 9th annual International Patient- and Family-Centered Care (IPFCC) Conference and then the pandemic hit. Instead of canceling the event like most had to do, the conference was moved to a virtual platform in record time. It was a great success! ▶ Page 9

Our history

MONROE CARELL JR. CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL AT VANDERBILT (1995)

- Members: 18 parents and guardians whose children receive health care and treatment at Children's Hospital and clinics
- Meets monthly
- One of the longest-running patient and family advisory councils in the U.S.
- 4 clinical advisory groups: Neonatal Intensive Care Unit, Cystic Fibrosis, Primary Care, and Pediatric Bereaved Family
- Participation on hospital committees
- Active participation and problem-solving with Hospital Acquired Condition Quality Work Groups

VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL (2007)

- Members: 25 patients and their family members who receive health care at Vanderbilt University Hospital or clinics
- Meets monthly
- 12 patients and family members, nominated by their nurses and physicians, were invited to participate
- In addition to the council, there is a Heart Transplant Clinical Advisory Group
- Value of council is recognized by leaders, managers, researchers, faculty, and staff members
- Intelligent, thoughtful, well-informed, candid individuals eager to collaborate to improve Vanderbilt's quality and service
- Acts as advisors and participants with institution planners

VANDERBILT BEHAVIORAL HEALTH (2012)

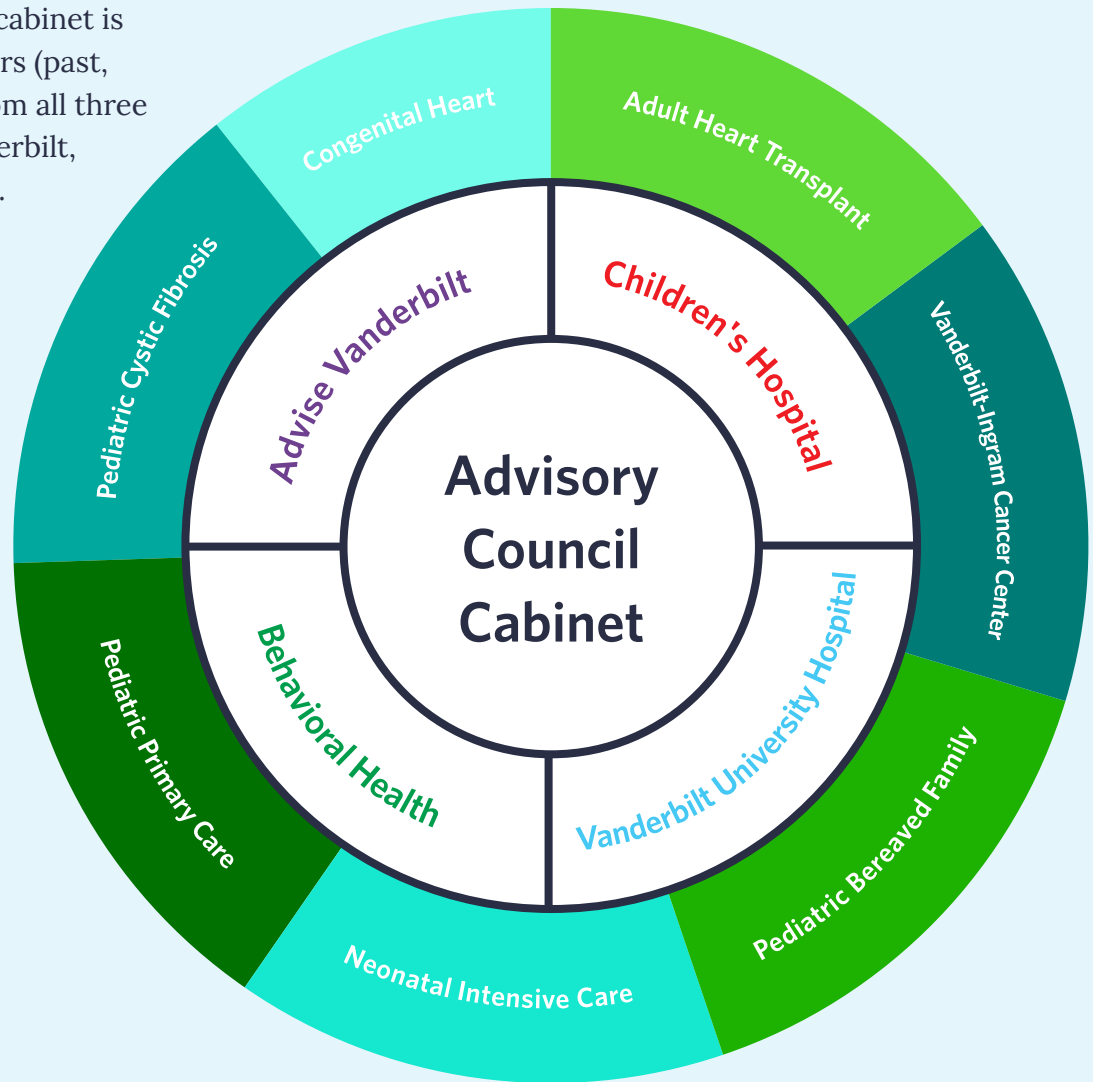

- Members: 12 patients or family members who received health care from Vanderbilt Behavioral Health
- Meets monthly
- Key leaders recognized a need to more effectively engage patients and families
- Focuses on overall treatment experience and the redesign of programs, services, and facility aspects
- Includes representation from all levels of care including inpatient services, outpatient services, and partial hospitalization programs
- Acts as a resource to behavioral health councils across the country

ADVISE VANDERBILT (2015)

- Members: 5,000 patients who receive care at Vanderbilt University Medical Center
- Medical Center recognized that not all patients and family members could come to a monthly meeting on campus
- Reaches a broader demographic of patients who come to us for treatment
- Participated in over 30 surveys
- Expanded to include Children's Hospital and LGBTQ patients
- Survey response rate consistently exceeds national average
- Large percentage of advisors are willing to come on campus for special collaboration

Advisory Council Structure

Our advisory council cabinet is comprised of our chairs (past, present, and elect) from all three councils, Advise Vanderbilt, and 7 advisory groups.

DR. MEG RUSH, PRESIDENT
CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

"I'm so very appreciative of our Family Advisory Council. As we roll out both small and large initiatives, we rely on the input from this group to guide our planning from the perspective of children and families. As we seek continued improvement in safety and quality, their insight and suggestions provide important information. What's most special to me to experience as I work with this wonderful group is their heartfelt connection to all that we do across the Children's enterprise. I'm so grateful to have them as true team members."

TRACY HARPER, COUNCIL MEMBER
VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL

"One of my personal goals is to be a voice for the voiceless. Serving on the council lets me achieve that goal. Equity and access are important to me, and this board strives to ensure that everything that the medical center does is inclusive and accessible for all."

Our people

Our councils welcome all patients and families. We strive to include people with diverse backgrounds so that we fully represent the large variety of health care issues, diagnoses, and cultures of VUMC patients.

GENDER

REBECCA MARTINEZ, COUNCIL CHAIR
CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

"Being part of the council allows me to engage in meaningful work where benefiting children and families is the highest priority."

2020 International Patient- and Family-Centered Care (IPFCC) Conference

Partnerships for Quality, Safety, and Equity

August 18 – September 10, 2020 | Hosted by Vanderbilt University Medical Center

The 9th annual conference addressed disparities in health and health care, and collaboration among health care professionals, patients, and families. Presenters shared innovations at direct care, organizational, community, regional, and national levels. Educational sessions were co-presented by health care professionals, patients, and families.

VUMC provided leadership support and guidance for all aspects of conference program planning and internal marketing. Beaumont Health provided partnership support. Enthusiastic attendees joined us from 38 states and 16 countries!

Conference At-A-Glance

COMMENTS FROM ATTENDEES

"It was abundantly clear that a great deal of thought and effort went into the creation of the virtual conference and all involved...went to great lengths to ensure that we, as participants, could not only take part in the conference but feel like we were a part of the conference even though we couldn't be there in person."

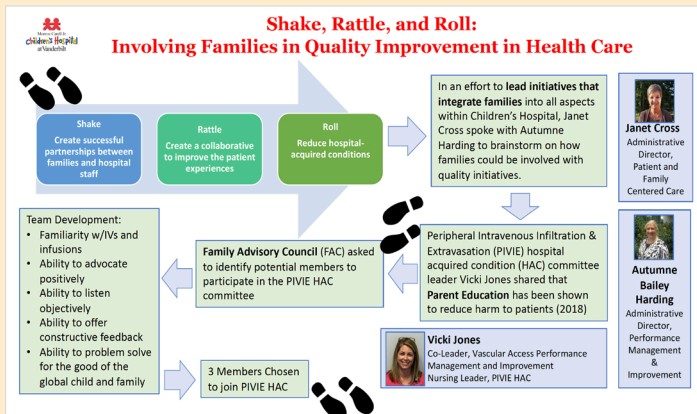

"The value of the conference is a 10+. The expertise and coordination to present the conference online was flawless. The content of the presentations are so relevant and the deliveries are engaging."

"Provided great insight into benefits of care by the medical field that is centered around the family and caregivers. What a valuable opportunity for the medical community to be open to listening to the ideas and views of patients and caregivers. What a gift to patients and caregivers that the medical community readily welcomes feedback and suggestions."

"Thanks for all the work you did to continue the tradition of putting on a top quality conference in this new virtual world!"

Our pillars and purpose

OUR PILLARS

People

We nurture a caring, culturally sensitive, and professional atmosphere as we continuously invest in the well-being and aspirations of our people.

Service

Collegiality is a central characteristic of our culture and defines how we serve our patients, those we teach, and the local and worldwide community.

OUR PURPOSE

The councils contribute to the education of patients, families, and health care providers.

The councils partner with health care teams to promote core concepts of patient- and family-centered care.

The five Pillars of Excellence are the Vanderbilt framework for setting organizational goals and direction. They provide a balanced approach to our goals, evaluations, and communication. Together our pillars and our purpose support mutual partnerships.

Quality

We relentlessly pursue and measure ourselves against the highest quality performance in all areas, from patient care to scholarship.

The councils collaborate with staff and faculty to improve quality.

Growth & Finance

We invest our resources in a manner that supports our long-term obligation to society: to achieve local, national, and worldwide impact in improving health.

The councils promote positive relationships between the health care system and the community.

Innovation

We seek excellence and leadership as we advance our systems of care, educational practices, and our commitment to discovery.

The councils offer input to leadership in planning and evaluating services and programs.

People

TAYRANETTE WILLIAMS, COUNCIL MEMBER

"Being a member of the council means an opportunity to serve those in our community. I've watched Vanderbilt's network expand across county lines reaching those living in my military community. Our connectivity facilitates unlimited access across the state and across state lines."

DANA SMITH, COUNCIL MEMBER

VANDERBILT BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

"When I first joined, I wasn't sure what to expect. It didn't take long for me to realize the positive vision of the council and see that vision turn into reality for the patients, their families, and friends. It's been an honor to be a part of a group comprised of caring individuals and Vanderbilt leaders all working together to help others."

Service

ANNE SHERIDAN, COUNCIL MEMBER
VANDERBILT BEHAVIORAL HEALTH

"The invitation to work with members of the council arrived at a perfect moment for me. After a difficult path to find a way of life for our loved one, I'm grateful to contribute and experience the council's quest for excellence. When I hear thoughtful and intelligent suggestions from compassionate council members, my sense of hope for the future is renewed."

ALISON BYNUM, COUNCIL MEMBER
CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

"Serving on the council shows me through data and relationships with hospital leaders, providers, and staff that my children receive high quality care at Children's Hospital. And I feel heard when I have a concern. I appreciate the mindset that, while we are already doing a great job, we can always make it better. The patient and family perspective is valued in this place."
